

- Wills, A J R a D W 1991. Rethinking American Religious History: A Progress Report on 'Afro-American Religious History: A Documentary History Project The Council of Societies for the Study of Religion Bulletin 20/3.
- Wilson, E A 1999. They Crossed the Red Sea, Didn't They? Critical History and Pentecostal Beginnings, in Murray W. Dempster, B D K, and Douglas Petersen (ed), The Globalization of Pentecostalism: A Religion Made to Travel. Oxford: Regnum Books.
- Witzel, M E J On the origin of the literary device of the 'Frame Story' in Old Indian literature, in Falk, H (ed), Hinduismus und Buddhismus, Festschrift für U. Schneider. Freiburg.
- Wright, D F 1976. Why were the Montanists Condemned? Themelios 2.
- Wypustek, A 1997. Magic, Montanism, Perpetua, and the Severan Persecution Vigiliae Christianae 51/No. 3:276-297.
- Yeomans, L B 1926. Healing from Heaven. Springfield: GPH.
- Young, A 2010. In the Days of Caesar: Pentecostalism and Political Theology. Cambridge: Eerdmans.
- Yung, H 2003. Endued with Power: the Pentecostal-charismatic Renewal and the Asian Church of the Twenty-first Century Asian Journal of Pentecostal Studies 6/1:63-82.
- Zimmerman, T F 1986. The Reason for the Rise of the Pentecostal Movement, Azusa Street and Beyond: Pentecostal Missions and Church Growth in the Twentieth Century South Plainfield, NJ: Logos.