

I make the people around me feel good .
I willingly obey those who are in a position of authority over me.
I avoid complaining to others about my problems.
I try to make the best of a difficult situation.
I find most people likable .
I am polite and courteous with others at workplace.
I make a point of being punctual.
I am accepting of people who have different beliefs or customs from mine.
I can disagree with someone in a calm manner .
I work well with people that I don't particularly like.										