

Taking a look at nearly 50 YEARS of USB's existence

As a foretaste of a year filled with memories in 2014, when USB commemorates its 50th anniversary, we look back at some photos of the past 50 years – from the first MBA group to what USB looks like today...

USB's very first
MBA class group
1964/1965.

USB50

“ FROM A USB REPORT BY PROF HELGAARD MULLER IN THE 1970S: USB is now only focusing on [potential students from] the Western Cape, Southern Cape, West Coast and Namaqualand. ”

“ FROM A USB REPORT IN 2013: USB’s students come from everywhere in South Africa, 16 other African countries, Europe and elsewhere. ”

The 50-year celebrations

A special edition of USB Agenda will be published early in 2014. Stories and photos of alumni will be used for this and it will be available on USB’s website, at www.usb.ac.za. Many of the photos from the past 50 years will also be for sale on the USB campus and a special gala dinner is planned for alumni. Watch our website for more information about this.

Prof Willie Hamman, a former student and lecturer at USB, during a research projection in 1979.

Students enjoy a smoke break inside the building between classes in 1980.

Students work together on micro computers in 1987.

Students utilise the library facilities in 1987.

The USB building in 1987.

The USB building now, in 2013.

SHARE YOUR USB MEMORIES

Do you have photos and stories from the past 50 years at USB that you would like to share with us? Please contact us at usb50@usb.ac.za. We look forward to hearing from you.

Any comments on this article? To comment online, click here or go to USB’s ThoughtPrint site.